The ACCA qualification is recognised globally as being the most prestigious qualification in the accountancy profession. Becoming an ACCA member, will provide you with excellent career opportunities in practically any country in the world and will give you the right to use the 'ACCA' designating letters after your name to confirm your professional status.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

ACCA offers you various entry points on to the ACCA Qualification, depending on your previous academic qualifications.

► Minimum Entry Requirements

To register for the ACCA Qualification, the only one that grants the ACCA Membership, you should normally hold an university degree. Students that hold a relevant degree from ACCA accredited institutions may be exempt from all 9 exams of the Fundamentals level and start directly at the Professional level. Degrees that are not accredited by ACCA but still have some relevance may also qualify for exemptions. You can also enter ACCA via these routes:

► Mature Student Entry Route (MSER)

MSER is available to students normally aged over 21 with either no academic qualifications or be in the process of obtaining one. They must pass the equivalent of papers F2, Management Accounting and F3, Financial Accounting within two years before further progress through the ACCA qualification is permitted.

► ACCA entry via Foundations in Accountancy

For this entry route an academic qualification is not required. Students should complete the Diploma in Accounting and Business first.

Exemptions

Exemptions are available for the Fundamentals level of the ACCA qualification. We strongly advise you to visit the ACCA website and use their online exemption system to check your individual eligibility.

Fundamentals level

It is divided into two key sets of modules that you must complete in order to pass the Fundamentals level and move onto the Professional level:

Knowledge module - three papers that introduce you to the core areas of finance and management accounting and give you a platform to develop your skills at the next level.

Skills module - six papers that test you on key technical skills that you must master to become a qualified accountant including Law, Performance Management, Taxation, Financial Reporting, Auditing and Financial Management.

Professional level

The Professional level is the final step towards the ACCA qualification and is equivalent, at an academic level, to a Masters degree, consisting of:

Essentials module – three compulsory papers that build upon the technical skills you have acquired at the Fundamentals level. They explore advanced professional skills, techniques and values that you will require to be an expert accountant in an advisory or consultancy role at a senior level.

Options module – you must complete two out of these 4 exams which focus on applying your knowledge and skills in two specific areas of your choice.

BSc in Applied Accounting

It is possible, while preparing for your ACCA exams, to obtain a Bachelor of Science degree in Applied Accounting awarded by Oxford Brookes University in the UK. You are eligible to undertake the Oxford Brookes BSc project after completion of the Fundamentals level.
